Newlox First Gold Sale - Validates Business Model

Vancouver, 26 May 2015 - Newlox Gold Ventures Corp. (“Newlox” or “the Company”) (CSE: LUX, XETRA®: NGO) is pleased to advise of its first sale of gold and its successful contaminant recovery since commissioning its tailings remediation program.

Newlox reports first revenue of C$40,020 has been received along with recovery of meaningful amounts of mercury. This achievement has validated the company’s business model and paves the way for ramping up of processing operations.

In addition to the revenue, the company is successfully remediating mercury contamination, which is a strong validation of the company’s environmental business model and a meaningful social benefit to local stakeholders.

Newlox has a comprehensive plan to incrementally increase gold doré output toward its stated objectives and plans to frequently update its shareholders as it progresses.

About Newlox Gold Ventures Corp.

Newlox Gold Ventures Corp. is not a mining company as it does not hold any mineral properties, nor does it conduct exploration or mining activities. It is an environmentally and socially responsible company pursuing precious metal related business opportunities in Latin America.

The Company is working in collaboration with the Norman B. Keevil Institute of Mining Engineering at the University of British Columbia and, with its experienced team in Central America, has established a waste remediation and gold recovery operation. Newlox provides a valuable service to local stakeholders where there exist a large number of historical waste dumps (tailings) that pose social and environmental risks. Newlox is addressing this problem by reprocessing these materials to recover remaining values of minerals while cleaning up the environment.

The longer-term objective of Newlox is to establish a dividend paying enterprise, which will allow its shareholders to participate in equity value growth, share in profits, and contribute to environmental clean up, while setting a high standard of social responsibility.
